Foreword

I am pleased to introduce the Annual Report of the Agricultural Land Tribunal for Wales for 2022-23.

As set out in the forewords to earlier reports, the Tribunal continues to work remotely, but we have now moved platforms from CVP to MS Teams.

The Law Commission's recommendations for reform of the Wales Tribunals system have, by and large, been accepted by the Welsh Government, which has begun work on a Tribunals Bill.

The Tribunal continues to aim to provide a user-friendly, efficient, and expert service at a minimum cost to litigants and the public purse. Unlike the court system, no fee is payable when an application is made to the Tribunal and in nearly all cases there will be no liability to pay the costs of the other side, regardless of the outcome. Unlike private arbitrations or third-party determinations, no fee is payable by the parties for the panel hearing a case. The Tribunal is therefore a very cost-effective means of resolving disputes.

The Tribunal is an expert Tribunal, and I express my continuing thanks to the Tribunal's panels of farmers, landowners, and drainage experts. We draw heavily on their knowledge and experience in resolving disputes which come before us. All corners of Wales, and all types of Welsh agricultural activity, have a voice in the Tribunal. We were able to meet during our annual training session, held remotely, in autumn 2022.

I use this opportunity to thank the Tribunal's Secretary, the Tribunal Support Officer, its business manager and their colleagues in the Welsh Tribunals Unit for all their hard work over the past year.

I am also grateful to my two Deputy Chairpersons – Judge Tanveer Rakhim and Judge Gareth Wilson – for their work on behalf of the Tribunal.

Finally, I express the Tribunal's thanks to Sir Wyn Williams for his guidance and support over the last few years as the President of Wales Tribunals. I look forward to working with his successor, Sir Gary Hickinbottom.

Dr Christopher McNall

Chairperson of the Tribunal

Basis for the Tribunal

The Agricultural Land Tribunal for Wales (ALT Wales) is a statutory organisation established under the Agriculture Act 1947 with jurisdiction for the geographical area of Wales.

The tribunal is independent of government. The ALT Wales plays an important role in determining disputes and other issues between agricultural landlords and tenants arising from tenancy agreements held under the Agricultural Holdings Act 1986. The ALT Wales also determines disputes relating to the drainage of agricultural land under the Land Drainage Act 1991.

The overriding aim of the ALT Wales is to:

- Provide a high performing, cost effective customer service for tribunal users and members
- Ensure that all aspects of the tribunal's work are administered in such a way as to achieve fair, independent and timely adjudication
- Operate within the legislative framework applicable in Wales

The Tribunal's Functions

ALT Wales deals with disputes relating to:

Land drainage:

- Restoration or improvement of ditches

Tenancy agreements:

- Notice to quit a holding
- Succession on death
- Succession on retirement

Agricultural applications:

- Bad husbandry
- Burning of heather or grass
- Fixed equipment
- Long-term improvement/s
- Market gardens

The Tribunal's Rules/Regulations

Regulations governing the tribunal's procedures are set out in:

- The Agricultural Land Tribunal (Area) Order 1982 (SI 1982/97)
- The Land Drainage Act 1991
- The Agricultural Land Tribunal (Rules) Order 2007.

The Tribunal's Process

To make an application or appeal you must complete and send the relevant application form to the ALT Wales. Applications will be accepted in by post or email. There are no fees for making an application to the tribunal.

The tribunal will acknowledge your application. The tribunal will register your case within 10 working days or write to you to request further information. On registration, a copy of the Application will be sent to the party named as the Respondent.

An application to the ALT Wales does not necessarily result in a hearing. Many cases are settled between the parties and do not require a hearing. If the application proceeds to a tribunal hearing; the panel is composed of a legally qualified chairperson and two lay members. Lay members have been appointed for their general expertise and knowledge.

Before almost every Tribunal hearing, the Tribunal panel will conduct an inspection of the land relating to the application. The tribunal may inspect the buildings, land and any livestock, equipment and produce.

Tribunal hearings will take place near to the land in question or virtually. Tribunal hearings are managed by the chairperson or deputy chairperson, who must have a legal qualification. The other two panel members are lay members who have knowledge and experience of farming, drainage and landowner matters in Wales.

The Tribunal publishes its decisions on the website for the ALT Wales. Decisions of the ALT Wales can be appealed on limited grounds to the Lands Chamber of the Upper Tribunal.

Full information and guidance, about the tribunal and its procedures, is provided on the website for the ALT Wales. Alternatively please contact the tribunal secretariat for further information or if you would like to receive publications in a different format. The contact details can be found on page 8.

Members of the Tribunal

The Lord Chancellor is responsible for the appointment and re-appointment of the chairperson, deputy chairperson and lay members. Appointments are made following the advertisement of vacancies and competitive interview by the Judicial Appointments Commission.

Chairperson: The chairperson has judicial responsibility for the tribunal.

Lay Members: Lay members have a wide range of relevant knowledge and experience which they bring to each hearing.

Secretariat: The day-to-day administration is largely delegated to the secretariat which deals with all the preliminary paperwork and the processing of applications to the tribunal. The secretariat consults the chairperson on all legal points arising during the preliminary pre-hearing stages of the proceedings and passes on the chairperson's rulings and directions in writing to the parties. The secretariat acts as a point of contact for chairpersons, members and tribunal users and attends some hearings to help with the efficient running of proceedings.
